

PHEK GOVERNMENT COLLEGE

INSTITUTIONAL DISTINCTIVENESS 2023-2024

Phek Government College is located in Phek District, one of the 17 districts of Nagaland. Phek is a district which is predominantly inhabited by the Chakhesang and Pochury tribes. Majority of the students come from adjoining villages and areas with poor socio-economic backgrounds. It is the only institution of Higher Education in Phek town, which is also the district headquarters. It therefore, has the unique distinction of being the only college in a town with a population of nearly 20,000. As such, it has a dual role to play. It caters to the educational needs of the burgeoning youth population, and at the same time, acts as a catalyst for community development in terms of social capital through community extension services by the faculty members as well as the students. Community extension services by the institution have taken many forms wherein the teachers as well as the students, either collectively or in their individual capacities, have rendered their best towards the betterment and upliftment of the society in terms of social capital.

Phek Government College is committed towards creating a support system which would enable a substantive transformation of the society. The institution foresees itself to be a place where academic knowledge is not merely imparted, but it strives to be a place which produces individuals who will be agents of transformation in the society. While it contributes to the society, the institution also feeds on the vast support network that it receives from the local community in pursuance of its goals, values and mission.
